THE ROLE

We are currently looking for a talented designer to join our BIMA on a full-time basis. The designer will be responsible for overseeing the creation and production of all print and digital graphics. This in-house function plays a vital role across several business divisions, from marketing and product development to human resources and operations.

RESPONSIBILITIES

As Designer you will be responsible for the creation and production of a range of design assets, including:

- Brand communications and collateral. Re-inforce brand guidelines for BIMA (imagery, mood, main rules of the brand), brand application and behaviour on ATL, BTL and digital formats, on a stand-alone a co-branded layout, and setting the evolution of BIMA's visual identity for new products and platforms
- Brand Consistency: You will be asked to review artworks produced by other designers and your job will be to ensure the brand has always been applied correctly. If not, you'll have to provide guidance to improve the design and supply the appropriate assets and mock-ups.
- Brand and Marketing Tool Kits. Develop the current brand tool kits for internal and external use (Brand Book, Agency Tool Kit, GIFs tool kit, etc.)
- Marketing materials. Designing, developing and customising print or other materials to support the marketing function e.g. banners, brochures, posters, events materials, stationery, garments, etc.
- Video content. Helping to conceptualise and create storyboards for commercial, institutional or documentary videos.
- Digital content. Including:
 - Collaborating with the Tech and Product team to develop / evolve design assets e.g. screen layouts and graphics for our mobile applications
 - Working with the Communications team to generate content and wireframes for new graphics and design, e.g. newsletters.
 - Collaborating with both global and local teams, creating imagery for Social Media platforms (Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Instagram), such as infographics, posts' imagery, GIFs, short videos, and giving advice on brand application.

- Helping to design the website's architecture for global and local websites, designing and publishing website pages.
- Leasing with external suppliers, such as:
 - Web developers, marketing or advertising agencies, video content agencies (requesting quotes, analysing budgets and negotiating deliver and timeline).
- Adhoc project management including:
 - Collaborating with the local teams to give guidance on brand, design and marketing topics, brainstorming and giving insights for campaigns, designing storyboards or developing concepts for campaigns, signing off for brand application on stand-alone or co-branded campaigns (ATL, BTL, digital).

THE CANDIDATE

You must have:

- Experience working in both print and digital design
- Experience working for advertising agencies is a huge plus, delivering under pressure and committing to tight deadlines.
- High Proficiency Level with Adobe Creative Cloud, especially InDesign, Photoshop and Illustrator
- Experience in CMS platforms like Wordpress and/or Silverstripe
- Some experience in creating newsletters by using Mailchimp
- Good knowledge of Web Design and UX; Ability to use programmes such as Sketch and create interactions via InVision and/or Zeplin
- Experience in video editing and creating animations would be a plus
- Experience with Power Point to create Templates, master pages and infographics.
- Ability to keep your work schedule organised by using spreadsheets or tools such as Trello or equivalent, committing to weekly deliverables
- Corporate experience: working within a team and managing multiple stakeholders (across several markets would be a plus)
- A strong sense of ownership
- Be able to work well with a team
- Bachelor's degree in a relevant field a plus

Ability to work from BIMA's London office is essential.

WHY BIMA?

BIMA has a very distinct culture. We like people who are smart and independent, but we don't like ego. We share our ideas as readily as we do our opinions and are respectful when doing so. We are driven and ambitious but most importantly we never lose our sense of humor.

Everyone in the BIMA team shares a passion for adventure. We look for bold people who love to travel, experience different cultures and try new things.

Our recruitment process is rigorous, but it has helped us build an impressive, dynamic team that shares a strong bond. If you match the profile described above we want to hear from you.

Please send a CV, cover letter and portfolio to careers@milvik.se
Note that applications without a cover letter will not be considered.
